More Important Than Ever, Embracing
$100,000 Worth of the Season's Most Fashionable Garments

Double the Amount That Has Ever Taken Part in Any Previous Selling Event

The above statements may sound somewhat extravagant, but your eyes will open with amazement when you see the display which covers our entire Third Floor, from Jefferson avenue to the alley on Main street, next to Winkelman's bakery.

A selling event that will mark a new epoch in Memphis retailing—for it is bound to make its importance felt throughout the Southland.

The unusualness and magnitude of this selling occasion is due to the advantages secured by our buyers, who have just returned this past week from the market—which was completely shattered by the unseasonable weather and the prevalent epidemic (the Spanish flu). Business was at a standstill, and a cash buyer could accomplish much. We were there in full force to secure the stylish quality bargains, and we got them aplenty.

WEDDINGS

Morris-Tharpe.

An announcement of interest throughout the state to the many friends of the contracting parties appeared in the Asheville, N. C. Times of Sunday, Nov. 2, when Miss Nell Tharpe, of Somerville, Tenn., became the bride of Mr. Harvey Morris. Mr. Morris is in business in Asheville and Mrs. Morris, with her mother, has resided there for several months.

Solari-Flynn.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, when Miss Frances Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Flynn, became the bride of Mr. Alvin P. Solari. Rev. Monsignor Murphy officiated in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was handsomely costumed in a suit of champagne colored velvet with trimmings of seal fur, with which she wore a black velvet picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

Miss Ethel Arnault attended the bride as maid of honor, wearing a model of taupe velour and a picture hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Paul Flynn, brother of the bride. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party in the home of the bride's parents, on Latham street.

The entire home was decorated in greenery and the red, white and blue in tulle and cut flowers predominated. In the dining room, where covers were laid for 18 guests, the table was covered in lace over white satin and had for a centerpiece a huge basket of pink roses and golden-erysanthemums.

During the afternoon a reception was held for the many friends of the young couple. A large wedding cake decorated in the national colors had the monogram of the contracting parties.

COMMONS VOTES DOWN IRISH SETTLEMENT NOW

LONDON, Nov. 6.—After a discussion lasting all day the house of commons yesterday rejected, by a vote of 194 to 115, a motion made by John Dillon, chairman of the nationalist party, that the Irish question should be settled without delay.

As first proposed, the motion asked that Great Britain should not enter the peace conference until the Irish question was settled. This met with vigorous opposition from Edward Shortt, chief secretary for Ireland, and Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, who argued that the war had raised questions far transcending home rule. Mr. Dillon then consented to amend his motion.

WOMEN ARE EMPLOYED TO AID IN ELECTION

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6. (Sp.)—Women and girls were called on to serve as clerks in the Knox county voting precincts Tuesday, due to the shortage of man power. The Knox county election commission ruled that the clerical work necessary to preparing the records of the election would be done by women, and within the limitations of the election laws of the state.

The precedent had been established in women assisting in the registration for the army on June 3 of last year and on Sept. 12 of the present year.
